RECOUNT FOR SHERIFF LIKELY

Corrected Returns in York County Give Irving Two More Votes Than Roberts

It will probably be necessary to have a recount of the vote in the York county primary for sheriff. The returns for Sheriff Frank L. Irving of North Kennebunk, according to corrected returns this afternoon, has two more votes than Deputy Sheriff Haven A. Roberts. Tuesday afternoon it was officially announced that Deputy Roberts had been nominated by 17 majority over Sheriff Irving.

It was discovered later that Sheriff Irving had 44 votes in ward 6, Saco, instead of 21 as was given out by City Clerk E. E. Mills to the newspapers Tuesday morning. The returns of war officers give Irving 44. This adds 20 votes to his total, and gave him a majority of three over Roberts. At 2:30 another error was discovered in ward 3. Instead of 10 votes for Irving, as given out by the city clerk, it should have been 45. This gives Irving 19 more votes in the city than he was credited in the returns made public Tuesday afternoon, and two more than Roberts.

The county commissioners race was close and uncertain for hours but Samuel L. Wilson of Biddeford was finally returned as the nominee by a

DECLINES TO MAKE COMMENT

American Reply to Carranza's
Note Handed to Mexican Official.

(Special to The Herald)
Mexico City, June 21—Secretary of Foreign Affairs Aguilar after reading the American reply to Carranza's May 22 note, declined today to comment on it in any way before he presented it to First Chief Carranza. He said the document would be laid before Carranza during the day but was uncertain as to the exact time. Last night was marked with quiet here in the capital. Large crowds of civilians gathered in front of the government buildings, but there was no disorder. Officials allowed it to become known that the American reply had been received but no demonstration followed.

RUSSIANS PRESS ONWARD

Make Advance of Twelve
Miles Within 48 Hours.

(Special to The Herald)
Petrograd, June 21—The Russian army under General Kaledin in Volynia has advanced 12 miles in the direction of the Vladimir-Volynsk-Sokal lines in the past 48 hours, says a dispatch from the front today. It added that the Austrian treasury at Luck was captured when Russians occupied the fortress. Sokal and Vladimir-Volynsk are held by the Austro-German troops.

Another advertising car of the Barmin and Bailey circus arrived on Wednesday and the bill posters with the same were busy during the day in billing the surrounding country.

TO RUSH ALL THE MILITIA TO BORDER

Seventeen Thousand Mexican Troops
Drawing Closer to U. S. Forces Under
Brig. Gen. Pershing—An Attack Feared

(Special to The Herald)

San Antonio, June 21—Major Gen. Pershing's forces have made a second request to the war department that all available militia, especially cavalry be rushed to the border at once. This request was made to Washington today.

Word has been received at General Pershing's headquarters that the New York and Illinois cavalry are already fully equipped and ready to take the field. It has now been established that the Mexicans who attacked the Americans recently at Matamoros were really Carranza soldiers and not bandits.

Seventeen thousand Mexican troops under General Trevino are converging upon the American expeditionary force of General Pershing from the east and northwest. It is reported in a dispatch received today from Columbus, N. M. The Mexicans divided in two columns are heading for El Valle and Nacimiento. Scouts sent out by General Pershing are said to have discovered the approaching Mexicans. When they reported the presence of the Mexicans, they were reinforced. Alarm is felt over the safety of the U. S. forces.

El Paso, June 21—War between the United States and Mexico may come within 24 hours as a result of the firm stand taken by President Wilson in his note to the Carranza government, according to the belief expressed by military men here today. Shipping at supply trains carrying U.

S. troops in Mexico was reported today from Columbus. The snipers are believed to have been Carranza soldiers. The contents of the Wilson note has already been communicated in substance to many of the Carranza generals in northern Mexico.

It is feared that some of the hot heads angered by the strong tone of the document may precipitate hostilities without the sanction of the de facto government. Advises from the front say that both the Mexican and American forces are drawn up in fighting lines and each is tensely waiting a move by the other.

News was received in Juarez that the text of the Wilson note was received in Mexico City late last night and that the work of transmitting it was begun at once, so that it could be presented to General Carranza today. A report was received that the scouts sent out by General Pershing toward the south and west after hand have encountered strong hostile forces and that reinforcements have been rushed to the scene. In the event of an outbreak of hostilities, General Bell at Fort Bliss is expected to move into Mexico along the tracks of the Mexican Central railway and cut the line of Villa at Ahumada. This would prevent the de facto forces under Gen. Serrano and Gen. Trevino from attacking the American troops at El Valle. Should a break come it is expected that Serrano would at once evacuate Juarez for the big guns of the U. S. army mounted north of the Rio Grande could blast the city to splinters within a few hours.

ORDERED TO MEXICAN WATERS

Navy Department Sends the Fleet of Destroyers Southward.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, June 21—Because of the menacing conditions on the west coast of Mexico the navy department at 11:15 a. m. today ordered the first division of destroyers of the Pacific fleet comprising the Paul Jones, the Peble, Stewart and Whipple, to sail from San Diego today to take stations in Mexican waters to be assigned by Admiral Winslow commanding the Pacific fleet. At the same time the navy department announced that it has received confirmation of the release of Ensign Kessling and Asst. Paymaster Howard of the gunboat Annapolis arrested by Mexicans at Matamoros last Sunday.

The forces of the army and navy were being distributed to wedge all Mexico in an iron grip should hostilities be forced by the de facto government. Practically every destroyer on the active list of the navy was under waiting orders. Supplies and provisions were on board and steam was up ready at the signal to throw a line of war craft along both coasts of Mexico and effectively blockade every port of that republic. All light draft gunboats were also in readiness for blockading duty. The administration is determined that its embargo on all munitions shall be made absolute unless there is an immediate change in the attitude of the Carranza government.

READY TO LEAVE FOR BORDER

Five Best in the United States.

(Special to The Herald)

Concord, N. H., June 21—All the members of the N. H. National Guard who were ordered to mobilize are now under canvas and are prepared to leave for the Mexican border at any minute. The Berlin company from the most northern point in the state, arrived at the camp grounds at noon. The latter is encamped in Goffstown, just outside of Manchester where they are gathering their horses. The major portion of the organization went into camp on Tuesday. Today word was sent to the war department at Washington by Adj.

HON. E. G. EASTMAN DIES AT EXETER

Was Formerly Attorney General, State
Senator and Representative—Also Director of Boston & Maine

Hon. Edwin G. Eastman, Exeter's foremost citizen, died Tuesday afternoon at his home on High street. His illness began March 12, when he was attacked by acute indigestion, a gripe could being another ailment. His condition gradually improved until he was able to sit up a short time daily and finally to take brief outings on his grounds. Then came a gradual change for the worse and for several weeks his condition had been serious.

Edwin G. Eastman, attorney general from 1882 to 1912 and prominent in public life, as at the bar and otherwise, was born in Grantham, Nov. 22, 1847, the only child of Rev. William H. and Paulina (Winter) Eastman.

He prepared for college at Kimball Union Academy and was graduated from Dartmouth in 1874, having worked his way through school and college. At Dartmouth he was prominent in a notable class, its members including Gov. Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, Chief Justice John A. Alden of Massachusetts and Frank S. Parsons of New Hampshire. Gen. Frank S. Streeter of Concord, ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Massachusetts and many others of note.

On graduation Mr. Eastman studied law with the late Alonzo P. Carpenter of Bath, afterward Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and in 1876 was admitted to the bar. In that year he represented Grantham in the Legislature. He ever retained his interest in Grantham, and had a summer home at his birthplace, which he enlarged and improved.

On Sept. 22, 1876, Mr. Eastman became a resident of Exeter and formed an office connection with the late Gen. Gilman Marston, who in 1873 admitted him to partnership. Until Gen. Marston's death in 1899 Marston & Eastman were leading combinations at the New Hampshire bar. Their successors are Eastman, Scammon & Gardner. Mr. Scammon a former president of the Senate and now a member of the Governor's council. At one time Gen. Eastman was in partnership with Henry F. Hollis of Concord.

In 1883-85 he was county solicitor, in which office his ability led to his appointment as attorney-general. In his long service therein, he conducted many important cases, often argued before the United States Supreme Court, by whose justices he had been commended. Among them were the oligarchical case and the Percy Sumner Club case, long protracted, but finally establishing popular rights in public waters of the state. Railroad and express cases, also taxed his abilities. His resignation as attorney-general was voluntarily tendered to Gov. Robert P. Bass. In private practice Gen. Eastman was eminently successful and few men so commanded the attention of juries.

Local probabilities Republican nomination for Governor and Congress might have been his for the taking. He represented this district in the Senate and Exeter in the Legislature and in the constitutional convention in 1902.

For 14 years Gen. Eastman was a trustee of Robinson Seminary. His other posts were many. He was president of the Exeter Manufacturing Company, director and vice president of the Exeter Banking Company and the Union Five Cents Savings Bank and president of the Newmarket Light Heat and Power Company. He had been a director of the Boston & Maine railroad.

Gen. Eastman leaves his wife, who was Miss Morgenthau Pollak; a daughter, Miss Ella P. Eastman; a son, Dr. Walter Eastman; and by his first marriage a daughter, Miss Helen M. Eastman.

RECRUITING PROGRESSING

Augusta, Me., June 21—All is in readiness at the state campground in this city for the mobilization of the 2d Regiment Infantry prepared to go to the Mexican border. The work of recruiting the several companies of the regiment to the maximum strength of 160 men to a company, is progressing in a satisfactory manner and the full quota will be obtained in a day or so. Adjutant General Pershing said today that the regiment could be mobilized at Augusta in a few hours notice.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TAKES EASY VICTORY

Widder Shoe Company Loses Game by an 8 to 4 Score in the Sunset League Game Last Evening

The Knights of Columbus defeated the Widder Shoe Company last evening winning an easy game by a score of eight to four; their runs coming in the first and second innings, five and three, respectively. Wilkinson, the first man to bat for the K. of C., walloped the first ball pitched by Hodgdon into right field for three bases and after that it was easy for the Knights to push runs across until their opponents pulled themselves together. Several bad errors assisted in the run getting for both teams and the game was rugged and not over interesting.

Jack O'Brien, manager of the Knights, pulled off one great circus catch in the second, when Nollette belted the ball into left field. Jack made a hard run backwards and jumping three feet into the air, making a grab with one hand. The catch retired the side and had it been left would have netted three runs as there were two on, the hit looking good for the circuit.

Skeep pulled one last play in the third inning on Wilkinson's hard grounder, getting the throw to first in record time after making a fine stop. Smith and Nollette pulled one false double when P. Bailey fanned in the fourth inning. O'Brien attempting to steal second. One more double, made by Mosher and Wilkinson in the fifth, and ending the game, was the only other feature.

Winning the game the Knights go into second place, leaving the Marines and the Champs tied for third. The loss was won by the Widder Shoe company and they took the field.

The Game
1st Inning.—Wilkinson hit the first ball pitched, sending it into deep right chase to the line, for three bases. O'Brien walked and stole second. P. Bailey hit to short and was safe. Mulloy throwing to the plate too late to catch Wilkinson who scored. O'Brien going third. Bailey stole second. J. Bailey singled, scoring O'Brien and P. Bailey. He stole second and went third and home on Mulloy's muff of Smith's throw to second and Craig's error in not getting the throw. Kelley filed to Craig. McWilliams walked. Sarotta beat out a pretty hunt intended for a sacrifice. McWilliams taking an extra base, landing on third. Sarotta stole second. Mosher was passed, the fourth ball going wild and McWilliams scored. Dow fanned. Wilkinson grounded to Mulloy for the third out. THREE HITS, TWO ERRORS, FIVE RUNS.

Mulholland was thrown out by Sarotta on a grounder. Nollette came through with a single back of right and stole second. Skeep was tossed out by P. Bailey. Craig singled to right. Nollette being caught at the plate attempting to score on the hit. TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

2d Inning.—O'Brien opened the inning with a triple to right. P. Bailey was out on a grounder to the pitcher O'Brien scoring. Jack Bailey was fanned. Kelly singled back of second and stole, coming home on Smith's over-throw of second and Mulholland's error. McWilliams was walked and stole second. Sarotta was safe on Skeep's bad throw to first. McWilliams scoring. Sarotta was caught napping by P. Bailey. TWO HITS, THREE ERRORS, THREE RUNS.

3d Inning.—Wright was safe when Wilkinson allowed his grounder to go through him. Mulloy fanned. Craig singled. O'Brien leading the ball and Craig landed on third. Wright scoring. Smith walked. Hodgdon sent a long fly to O'Brien. Craig scoring after the catch. Hodgdon took second on a passed ball. Mulholland singled, advancing Hodgdon to third. And stole second. Nollette was out on a fly to O'Brien. TWO HITS, TWO ERRORS, TWO RUNS.

4th Inning.—Mosher singled and was out stealing. Smith to Nollette. Dow filed to Mulholland. Wilkinson grounded out to Skeep. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, TWO RUNS.

5th Inning.—O'Brien was hit by a pitched ball and was out on a double play. Smith to Sarotta as P. Bailey fanned. Jack Bailey singled. Kelly filed to Mulholland. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Hodgdon retired on a grounder. McWilliams to Wilkinson. Mulholland was called out on a close play on a grounder to Wilkinson. Nollette singled to left. Skeep out on a high foul to J. Bailey. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

6th Inning.—McWilliams singled. Sarotta dumped the ball in front of the plate and was out. J. Bailey to Wilkinson. McWilliams going second. He was caught off the bag by P. Bailey for the second out. Mosher filed to Mulloy. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Craig hit to left for a single, but was forced at second by Wright's grounder to Wilkinson. Mulloy sent a line drive to Mosher for a put out and a quick throw to Wilkinson doubled. Wright out at first. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

BOXING NOTES
In the boxing matches at the Rockingham A. C. meeting in Freeman's hall this evening, three good bouts have been staged. Dave Powers of Malden, Mass., is scheduled to go for ten rounds, against Joe Startz of the U. S. S. Montana. Powers is a hard-hitting, hard working fighter, and will keep Startz hustling at all times. But the boxer will not prove any easy pickings for the Hub boxer. Startz was given a draw against Eddie Flynn of Peabody. Flynn is too good for Powers—so the Boston fans think. If this is true it doesn't look like a bad bet that the navy men will be standing on both feet and looking for more when the final bell is sounded.

In the semi-finals Harry Ah Chung the fighting Chin from Salem, Mass., is to go against Tommie West of Manchester in an eight-round bout. Harry has been here a couple of time and gave a mighty good account of himself winning a warm place in the hearts of the fans for his gameness and cleverness. He is a willing scrapper and should make the New Hampshire boy travel a little big.

The prelims are attracting a lot of attention as a couple of little claimants are matched for six rounds in Steve Travels of Biddeford, Me., and Sammie Lewis of Manchester. Both of the boys claim the 115 championship of their respective states and the mill is catching a great deal of interest.

Pull Schlossberg of Boston, former heavyweight champion of the navy, and a man well known and well respected by the Portsmouth fans, is going to referee the bouts tonight at the Rockingham A. C. very much to the gratification of three of us. If not four the latter reference being Matchmaker Dow. Schlossberg's work as a referee has always been satisfactory in each of his appearances in Portsmouth and he will likely be accorded as big a hand as any of the other actors when they step into the squared circle.

WITH THE LOCAL SPORTS

Two feature sport meetings will be held here today, one in the afternoon in the rubber game between Portsmouth high and Dover high on the south playground diamond, followed by the Sunset League game in the evening between the Marley Button company and the Champions, and the boxing matches of the Rockingham A. C. in the evening.

In the afternoon game between Dover and Portsmouth high schools both teams are going hard after a victory. It was not announced last evening who would do the slab work for Portsmouth but it is safe to suppose the Hodgdon will start as his work has evening for the Widder Shoe was no very hard and might serve as a warm up. The last few days that the teams have loafed has hurt a great deal and Hodgdon was far from effective in the opening innings. It is expected that he will be working better this afternoon.

Each team has taken one game, the first going to Dover on their home grounds and the second to the home team in the game played at Portsmouth on the 15th of the month. In that game Hodgdon held the up-river boys hitless and runless and the Portsmouth team batted Fisher for six hits getting seven runs. Portsmouth was charged with two errors and Dover with 7. The local fans are looking for some more of the same kind of work

The "come-back" of the Champs in the batting end of the game will be given a test this evening in the Sunset League game against the Marley Button company. Big Ed Moran, who has pitched some pretty tight games against the P. A. C. in past years, is out to get them if he can do it. Should the P. A. C. batters hit as they did in their last game there will be some thing doing.

The two games will constitute a double header or continuous performance. The high school game will be called for 4.30 o'clock and will run for the full nine innings. After the last man is out the P. A. C.—Marley Button Company game will be called. The high school team needs and deserves the support of every baseball fan in the city.

The real fan can get along without eating but he can't get along without baseball and fourteen innings of good ball will pay up for the fat for supper—or dinner if that is the meal you eat in the evening. After the games you can go home and eat, finishing in time for the boxing matches.

SPORTING EVENTS PROGRAM OF SECOND DAY'S CELEBRATION

The second day of the Harvard 1901 celebration, during the "feed" the members were entertained by Carroll J. Swan and R. W. Dibble, both of Boston, with stories and a dialogue. A short business meeting was held and the resignation of Harold H. Clark of New York, as Secretary of the class was received and accepted. John Hallock, business manager of class, authorized to appoint a nominating committee for a successor to Mr. Hallock.

In the morning the program was devoted to the golf and tennis tournament, ending with the elimination baseball games. The tennis game was captured by Henry Hurlbert and Henry Shaw, both Boston attorneys; and the honors at golf were captured by Hugh Myhr of Chicago. The baseball players were divided into six teams, each playing a few innings in any elimination contest. In the finale the team captained by Jack Halliwell of Boston defeated Captain Stanley Cunningham's team, winning a 17 to 3 victory.

At noon a clam bake was held on the beach in front of the Farragut, which is serving as headquarters for the celebration. During the "feed" the members were entertained by Carroll J. Swan and R. W. Dibble, both of Boston, with stories and a dialogue. A short business meeting was held and the resignation of Harold H. Clark of New York, as Secretary of the class was received and accepted. John Hallock, business manager of class, authorized to appoint a nominating committee for a successor to Mr. Hallock.

In the evening an informal dinner was held at the Farragut House and was followed by two vaudeville entertainments, one by two vaudeville entertainments, one by members of the Boston delegation, the second by New York members of the class.

AT THE COLONIAL THEATRE.

Manager Lorenzen, of the Colonial Theatre, will give the people of Portsmouth, for the last three days of this week a vaudeville program of class and refinement. The Colonial Ladies' Quartette will be an act that will long be remembered, for their quality of tone, voice and harmony, and each and every member of the organization is a soloist of high honor who has won great favor in the musical world.

Fred and Albert, two experts of the Roman Rings, and the fastest net of his kind now travelling upon the vaudeville stage, are sure to be far more than pleasing to all lovers of athletics, while the comedy musical act as presented by two colored comedians, Hunsley and Nichols, will add just enough variety to make up a most pleasing and entertaining program.

The photoplay program will include the Selig Tribune news weekly, a comedy reel and the dramatic three-part feature.

OFFICERS ON TOUR OF INSPECTION.

Tuesday afternoon a special train from Boston on the Boston & Maine was run over the Portland division, officers of the division making a tour of inspection of the several stations between Boston and Portland. In the party were general manager Pollock and Superintendent Rourke with their assistants and other officers. The return to Boston from Portland will be made today via Dover.

Newspaper advertising is conceded to be the best. The Portsmouth Herald reaches the people of this city and is an excellent advertising medium.

The Pure Turkish Tobacco in STRAIGHTS is Cut by these Machines Mr. Smoker:

YOU men who many times a day, before lighting a cigarette, press it between your fingers or tap it gently on your thumb nail to loosen the tobacco—you men little appreciate how carefully the contents of STRAIGHTS are prepared.

THE tobacco leaves are fed into the above pictured machines, which finely shred them. This shredding process must be done so carefully to avoid bruising the tobacco that the knives of the machines are removed every four minutes to be resharpened. It is because these machines cut the tobacco so finely that it is easily loosened before smoking.

THE shredded tobacco is next carried, automatically, into a machine known as the Turkish Dust Remover, where every particle of that snuff-like substance which spoils many cigarettes is removed. This ingenious contrivance, a mammoth sifter, was perfected by Mr. W. H. O'Brien, Vice-President of The American Tobacco Company, in charge of cigarette manufacturing, and is used exclusively in this factory.

IF when you are next in New York City you should care to observe the various machines in operation and to see for yourself the perfect cleanliness that prevails throughout the entire factory, drop a postal to the STRAIGHTS factory, 337-347 West 27th street, and a card of invitation will be sent you promptly.

ONE thing is inevitable. After seeing this marvelous factory you will agree with Alfred W. McCann of the New York Globe, America's foremost authority on factory sanitation, that you CAN smoke STRAIGHTS with every certainty of their goodness and purity.

Telling How to Do It.

Among those who have what they presumably consider important outgivings for the public are persons who are fond of showing how small is the cost of living if one will practice real economy. Every now and then there is published a claim that a workingman, a working girl or a family can live comfortably on a very small allowance if the rules of true economy are observed. The claims are backed up with figures and tables showing what somebody has done, and are usually coupled with the contention that this sort of living is more healthful than that which permits a person to have all he wants to eat.

Some one having figured out that a New York working girl should be able to live comfortably on $5 a week, one of the leading newspapers of that city is led to remark that one of the difficulties with experiments of this kind is that they are usually conducted by others than working girls. "Sometimes," it says, "it is a woman of society to whom the novelty of frugal living offers a stimulus that is bound to wear off with continued practice. Sometimes it is a gentleman of advanced years whose demands on nourishment and clothes and recreation are apt to be less at 75 than they are at 17. The real trouble, however, is that it is much easier to demonstrate a thesis on $5 a week than to live on that amount."

That is strictly true, and the fact applies to many things besides the cost of living. It is much easier to tell how to do things than it is to do them. There are writers who can show large profits in farming or berry raising or poultry raising, and yet who never raised a potato, a chicken or a berry, except from the plate to the mouth. In other words, money making and money saving are the easiest things in the world—on paper—provided the right methods are pursued. And, of course, the right methods are invariably laid down by the sages who "take their pens in hand."

Fortunately, the great majority have learned not to be disturbed or misled by the outgiving of the wiseacres who take it upon themselves to teach others how to live. Experience is said to be the best teacher, and the average man and woman finds it so. It is possible and well to profit by the experience of others as well as those that come to every individual, but it is the height of folly to be misled by the saying and claims of persons fond of placing on paper theories that fail miserably when there is an attempt to put them into practice. The sensible person will keep his eyes and ears open to what is going on about him, but will never rule out the teachings of his own experience, upon which he knows he can safely rely.

New York city is growing more particular. The unemployed actors who are in the habit of spending much of their time on Broadway have been ordered by the police to "keep moving." The actors did not take kindly to this sort of "movie" and a number of arrests followed. It has been truly said that if a person in New York does not move with the crowd he is simply in the way.

It is not an uncommon thing for prisoners to break out of jail, but very rarely does any one break in. There was a case of this kind, however, in West Virginia the other day when some men broke into the jail and stole a quantity of whiskey that had been confiscated by the officers under the prohibition law. The incident proves that the work of moral reform in West Virginia is not yet complete.

Secretary McAdoo finds that the revenues of the government up to June 30, 1917, will be such that "only" $150,000,000 of extra revenue will be needed to meet the bill for preparedness and other large contemplated expenditures. The people of the country will be glad to know that they are to get off so easily.

Figures from the immigration bureau show that immigration is on the increase, though the volume is nothing like what it is in normal times. It is not to be wondered at that those who can do so are glad to get away from the boisterous Europe and set their faces toward the land of the free and the home of the brave.

It seems, according to reports, that large sums of money with which to finance the Irish rebellion were sent from this country. The people of the United States appear to be in a position and mood to respond to about every call that comes along, without stopping to ask questions.

In one eastern town where laborers are stirring things up, one employer has agreed to pay $2.50 a day for eight hours. At this rate common labor should come to be eminently respectable in time.

First forest fires and then floods. There is something doing all the time everywhere in this great and diversified country.

HARVARD UNIT IN LONDON

Miss Jessie Lenore Jameson Writes Interestingly of What She Saw in England.

Miss Jessie Lenore Jameson of this city who is a nurse in the last Harvard Unit, writes under date of June 4 to her mother Mrs. Sarah B. Jameson of this city the following interesting letter:

Dear Mother:— It is now Sunday night about 11 p. m. I suppose it is about 4 or 5 o'clock at home and you are all getting ready for supper. It really is only about 10 o'clock here for they have adopted that system here of putting all the clocks ahead one hour for the summer months so as to economize by using all the day light. Did you receive a card telling you that the Andalus arrived safely? I had a fine time aboard ship after I got over my three days of sea-sickness. Had good weather all the way, have also had splendid weather since our arrival in London until today when it rained for a while this afternoon and evening. We arrived in Portsmouth harbor Tuesday evening but didn't go ashore until Wednesday morning. It was so good to see land sighted at about 3.30 o'clock that afternoon and go into Portsmouth harbor about 5 o'clock. It was a beautiful sight to see the green hills and hedges of Land's End and to see the sheep and cattle grazing there, also the Old Castle Fort and light houses, with the town in the distance. The next morning the immigration officials and all sorts of other officers came aboard and went over our passports. Afterwards we went ashore in tenders. We left Portsmouth in a funny English train about noon arriving at Paddington station, London about 6 p. m. The trip up from Portsmouth to London was the most beautiful I have ever taken. Up through Devonshire with its quaint houses and gardens, dear little churches and rows and rows of Hawthorne trees in bloom. Many of the cottages were made of stone with thatched roofs. They looked just like pictures I have seen. When you see Mrs. Warburton, do tell her I said, "No wonder she is proud of England." It is beautiful. We had luncheon on the train and arrived at the hotel on time for dinner that evening. As you see we are stopping at the York hotel. It is a nice place and very central, just a stone's throw from Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square, etc. That evening after our arrival a crowd of us girls went to the movies, just up Oxford street. It was a place where they show Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin as we felt right at home. The next morning we had to go shopping to get our uniform necessities, such as aprons, cuffs, and collars, hats, etc. Also had to go to the tailors to be measured for our new dresses and capes. With the going around to many of the other big stores it occupied the most of the day and we were tired enough to retire fairly early that evening. Friday morning we visited some of the shops and interesting places in our neighborhood. In the afternoon our crowd took a train for Windsor, saw the castle where the Royal family spend part of their time and Queen Victoria and her husband were buried there. We drove down the long avenue of elms where the Kings and Queens drive. It leads right straight from the front of Windsor Castle for about three miles, has a double row of elms on either side, parks containing herds of deer and fawn. All this land belongs to the castle grounds. At the end of the drive on a high hill is a wonderful big statue of King George III. Also saw the house where Queen Victoria lived when a girl. From there we drove back to the town, over the bridge to the town of Eton, where the famous school for boys is situated. It is the queerest old place I have ever been in, just crumbling in pieces. About a thousand boys attend there, among them the present King's fourteen year old son. The boys all wear long trousers, Eton jackets and tall silk hats. We visited the chapel there also the old library and dining hall. The chapel was built in 1441. Saw a lot of very old books at the library, among them Queen Mary's Bible, not the present Queen. That evening a party of us girls went to the theatre. It was very spooky coming home, with the streets in darkness. We tried to get a taxi but couldn't as they were all engaged.

Taxis and buses carry one a great distance for a very few cents, so we use them all the time. This morning eight of us crowded into one taxi to go to church at St. Paul's Cathedral. It is a beautiful old church and had a very impressive Episcopal service. Yesterday we went to Westminster Abbey and through the houses of Parliament, also over London bridge and saw the Tower of London. Expect to go through the latter place tomorrow. Saw the tombs of all the nobles and Royal personages in Westminster Abbey, the coronation chair, the wax figures of the Kings and Queens, (these were horrible, especially the one of Elizabeth), Shakespeare's tomb, etc. Many of the tombs we could not see for they were covered with sand bags. This afternoon we went through the national portrait gallery. Tomorrow, besides going to the Tower of London, we go to luncheon at the famous Cheshire Chase Inn on Fleet street. We may also go to hear more cases at the law courts. You can't imagine all the form and trouble we have to go through in London here. Have had to go to the American consuls while we wait over our passports and we signed all sorts of things, also had to go to the police station within twenty-four hours after landing here. We have got to see the French consul before we can go to France, so I hear. So much red tape—baggage examined at the customs, questioned about our business, birth, etc. We leave for France on Thursday if we have no trouble with our passports.

The marriage of Miss Edith Olivia Flint and Mr. Harry Leonard Rose, both of this town, occurred this forenoon at the home of the latter's parents in Manchester, N. H. The couple were attended by Miss Hilda Burdett of Manchester, a close friend of Miss Flint's, as bridesmaid, and Mr. David Flint, also of Manchester, brother of the bride, as best man. The bride was prettily attired in a traveling suit of blue taffeta, and the bridesmaid's gown was of blue Georgette crepe. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, after which the young couple left on their honeymoon for Worcester, Mass. Upon their return they will reside at Locke's Cove. They have the hearty best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy married life.

Robert H. Stewart concluded his duties in the store of J. P. Suggs to accept a fine position with the New England Telephone Company in Boston. He will leave for that city tonight and later move his family there. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart greatly regret their departure but wish them much success for the future.

Norman E. Dimbar, a student at Hebron Academy, was among those who took part in the pageant "Endymion" which was presented by the students on the campus on Tuesday.

Bert Bucklin of Oak Avenue was called to Hooksett, N. H., today by the death of his mother, Mrs. Emily Bucklin.

The Children's Day exercises will be held at the Congregational Church, Kittery Point, on Sunday, June 25, at 11 a. m. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Word has been received here that the brother of Mrs. Robert H. Stewart, of Gloucester, Mass., has enlisted in Company G, Mass. Eighth Infantry, which regiment is expecting at any moment to leave for the Mexican border.

About forty children from the Austin school went on their annual picnic to Hampton and Salisbury beaches.

CURRENT OPINION

There is in no use in the United States enough water power to equal, if harnessed to the wheels of industry, the daily labor of 1,800,000,000 men, or thirty times our present adult population.

We have billions in accumulated wealth, but we have mined only the surface of our natural resources.

In the development and utilization of natural resources, particularly of water powers, we have fallen behind the rest of the world.

While we are hickering over terms of legislation to make our water powers available other countries have developed theirs and created vast new industries.

We are depleting our fuel supply in the manufacturing sections of the east and middle west, while in the far west are mountains of undeveloped raw materials adjacent to unused water powers whose development would mean the establishment of great new industries in new manufacturing centers.

We must depend upon private enterprise and capital to secure this development. To enlist private enterprise our legislation must offer the security of investment and hope of reasonable reward which will put money and brains into these enterprises. The door must be securely locked against exploitation. But there must be no improper barriers or handicaps.—By Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior.

FOUND THE HIDE.

Halfpenny Is Charged With the Larceny of a Militia Man's Uniform.

Officer Philbrick arrested a colored man named Halfpenny, on Tuesday evening for the larceny of a uniform, the property of the U. S. government. William J. Holland, a member of the First Company, Coast Artillery Corps brought the uniform from his home wrapped in a piece of paper and on his arrival at the armory on Parrott avenue finding the building locked, he placed the bundle under the steps. Upon his return he found the bundle gone and he immediately reported the same to the commanding officer, Major Chauncey B. Hoyt. The matter was reported to the police with the result that in less than an hour the uniform was recovered at Halfpenny's house on Brewster street. The case will be heard in the municipal court at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price, $1.00.

PLEADS FOR HARD WORK

Pres. Elliott of the N. Y. N. H. and H. R. R. Urges America to Keep to the Front.

(Special to The Herald)

Middlebury, Vt., June 21.—Howard Elliott, head of the New Haven railroad system pleaded for hard work and economy to keep America in the forefront of the nations in his address on receiving the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, at Middlebury college today. He said in part:

"As your catalogue points out, the location of the college favors economy—a sterling habit that seems to be lost sight of in this period of extravagance, due, doubtless to the great increase in wealth. We are extravagant as individuals, and our government, federal, state and municipal and county, reflects that spirit. As a result we are piling up debts that will be a burden upon many a country and town, and the state and nation for years to come.

"The college in the country has a direct influence for some and economical living which is an offset to the extravagance of the great cities.

"There is another habit that is not so prevalent as formerly—the habit of work. Those who made the American nation what it is today worked long and hard. The spirit of hard work now seems to be lacking and we hear constantly that eight, hours or less work a day is all that a strong healthy man should do. Where would the United States now be if our forefathers had been content with eight hours work a day? Where will the U. S. be in the race for future commercial supremacy among the nations if that spirit continues? We have lots of ships to build, railroads to develop, an army and navy to be manned, and countless tasks to perform. Every patriotic man should give the best that is in him, not at least, if we are to avoid serious difficulties at home and abroad.

"Then there was the old habit of prompt obedience to lawful authority. Some of the commercial, financial and industrial difficulties of recent years can be traced to the fact that daring and ambitious men did not pay attention to the laws, man-made, and nature-made. We cry out against industrial accidents and blame the corporations, and yet a large proportion of all accidents are traceable directly to the failure to obey lawful authority.

"I recently received a report from the Interstate Commerce Commission about the accidents on the New Haven road since 1911. All in which said there were fatalities to passengers, the report said, were due to the failure of some men or men to obey the rules. These men were good average men and did not mean to disobey the rules, and did not mean to cause accidents, but the result indicates that the spirit of complete and prompt obedience to lawful authority is not as prevalent as it should be.

"The great growth of the nation, the increased wealth, the luxury and extravagance, the ease of living, and the desire for amusement have made some of the old fashioned, sterling characteristics and habits seem less necessary and desirable to the present generation. Yet, if we are to prepare properly for the future we must pay attention to these simple, homely qualities and train young men and women to believe in them.

"Without character, high sense of duty, and willingness to work long and hard, all the 'preparedness' parades and meetings will be of little avail.

"Wealth has accumulated in the U. S. to a marvelous extent. It has brought much good and some harm to those who have not the moral fibre to differentiate between good and evil. And there has been too great drift away from the country to the city."

"BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE."

"Newspapers are the only advertising medium that hold a direct commission from the people," said R. Irving Fletcher in a recent public address. Newspapers are only great in influence as they serve the public.

So accustomed are newspaper readers to seeing advertising in their favorite paper that they regard it as part of the news their money pays for.

National advertisers are now finding out what local dealers discovered long ago—that no advertising will produce so much business for so little money as newspaper advertising.

National advertisers are invited to write the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, for a booklet on "Co-operation."

COMMITTEE ON INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS MAKE SWEEPING CHARGES AGAINST BIG CORPORATIONS WHO HAVE SECURED SEVERAL INJUNCTIONS.

(From Committee of Industrial Relations, Washington, D. C.)

Washington, June 20—Union labor in Chicago with an absolutely just cause, is fighting with its back to the wall a really desperate combination of employers grouped around the International Harvester Company, and also against the power of the courts. The most sweeping injunction in the whole history of the use of injunctions against labor have been issued in the form as yet, of temporary restraining orders, on behalf of the Harvester Company and the Illinois Malleable Iron Company and on behalf of the big and little tannery companies of Chicago whose workmen are also on strike to procure a respectable living and some small share of the prosperity which their labor is creating.

The unions are winning the strike and would have it won except for the resort of the employers to the courts to help them save their big profits and starve the strikers into submission to bosses who are too arrogant even to confer with committees of the workers, or with national and state and local mediators.

The employees of labor in Chicago, as elsewhere, see that labor now has its opportunity, through organization, to get the directing control of its own life and to gain fair wages. So they are desperately determined to do all in their power, and to use every legal process their lawyers have devised to prevent the workers from organizing and helping one another by labor union action.

The employees of the Deering plant and the McCormick plant of the International Harvester Company and the employees of the Illinois Malleable Iron Company presented demands on May 1 for a shorter work day and for increases in wages amounting to an average of about 11 per cent for both piece and day work. They walked out when the demands were refused. They have stayed out ever since and the plants have been tied up ever since. For the molders, coremakers, and the foundrymen on strike were given trial to the operation of the works. The companies could not get strikebreakers to take the places of the workers, and no trickery or intimidation could bring the men back into the plant. Strong local unions, the Malleable Castings Workers' Union and the Illinois Malleable Iron Workers' Union, were formed among the workers and affiliated with the Chicago Federation of Labor and the American Federation of Labor.

Trusting them to their hold on the courts and the process of injunction, the employers (with the International Harvester Company covering up in the center) flung themselves full against the American Federation of Labor and the Chicago Federation of Labor and the local unions of the strikers and against the individual strikers themselves.

The injunction they asked and which a judge issued, actually denies and sets aside the freedom of the press. It forbids the use of any kind of publicity by the workers to ask or to induce other workers not to take their places in the plant or to come out and join the union. Specifically the companies asked that the unions be forbidden to repeat such notices in the Polish Daily and Weekly "Zogad" as the following, which the unions had inserted:

"We are asking all workmen not to go into the shops of the Illinois Malleable Iron Company as there is a strike there. Be sure and keep away from the plant. The conferences with the company are sure to be successful. The meetings take place at Webster hall, Webster and Hobey streets. The committee Jan Michalek, Stanislas Kazubski, Joseph Duba."

What becomes of the freedom of the press is a plain, unthreatening statement like that can be forbidden publication both in newspapers and by circulars?

That assault on the freedom of the press and on free speech and on the right of the workers to address their fellow workers would seem to be as far as corporation employers could go in the use of injunctions. But these Chicago fighters against union labor have tried to use the power of the courts to starve the workers and their families.

The injunction prohibits the American Federation of Labor and all union men and all other people from helping the strikers with money or with groceries or with credit or with new jobs, or with any other kind of assistance or reward.

If these underpaid foundry workers and molders and other striking workers are hungry or are out of money, after six weeks of heroic struggle and sacrifice for their families; they are to be branded as criminals and put into jail for contempt of court if they accept a loan or a gift from their fellow unionists to help them over into the day of better industrial justice.

If union labor, national, or state or city or local, helps these Chicago strikers to win their particular battle in the general fight of the working people, then all union labor is to be in contempt of court and is to be punished.

Could anything be clearer than is the attempt of these Chicago employers to prevent all co-operation and organization by the workers for the workers' mutual protection? Their challenge in these Chicago injunctions is a challenge to the whole labor movement.

They make the attempt to destroy union labor and their attempt to starve their striking workmen into submission with the bold and unvarnished declaration that they want the courts to guard their profits. They boldly declare in seeking for the injunction, that the strike was keeping them from making a lot of money. They say they have material on hand which would be valueless unless labor would give it a value. And yet, on that admission that their own profits depend on the labor of the workers, they ask that the workers be starved or put in jail for trying to get an eight or a nine hour day and an increase in wages less than the increase in the cost of living.

These same workers are told in the same injunction that they must not picket, that they must not congregate in the streets near the companies' plants, that they must not try to induce other workers to leave the plants. They are told not to do these and many other things that are harmless or that they have not attempted to do.

The injunction against the Chicago foundry workers as well as the somewhat earlier tannery workers slyly or directly implies to the workers acts of violence such as have actually been committed against the workers. For instance, tannery workers who had been getting from ten to fourteen dollars a week and who had been on strike for a 15 per cent increase in pay and a nine instead of a ten hour day, have been tricked into going into the companies' offices and there have been beaten up on their refusal to go back to work at the companies' dictation. There have been too many affidavits of this almost unbelievable brutality on behalf of profits to leave any doubt that it is a fact.

In Chicago at this period, in addition to minor industrial struggles, there are the strikes of the Malleable Iron Company and two International Harvester Company plants, the McCormick and the Deering, involving 2500 to 3000 workers; the strike of the tanneries where 2300 men are still out, six of the 23 employees having already given in to the workers' demands; the strike of the two to three thousand employees of plumbing manufacturers and the strike of from 1500 to 1800 drivers for the express companies. In every case the workers have had the support of organized labor and have proved themselves masters of the situation, able to win their strike. It remains to be seen whether the rush of the employers to the courts with their losing fight can rob the workers of their earned victory and can stamp fraternally and mutual aid among workers as criminal offenses.

AUSTRIAN ARMY FACING COMPLETE ANNIHILATION

Must Fight or Retreat and Battle With Russian Forces in Present Situation is Believed by Experts to be Dangerous

Petrograd, June 20.—With an average Austrian retreat of twenty-five miles over the entire Volhynian and Galician front, except in the immediate region of Tarnopol; with the Russian seizure of Czernowitz and the flight of the southern Austrian army toward the Carpathians, and with the Russians closing in upon Lemberg from two directions, the operations in the southwestern front have reached the crucial point where it is believed here, the Austrian armies must either make a final stand, or by their further retreat automatically compel a general retirement of the German army positions, which they have held against the Russians for nearly a year.

Such a stand, in the unanimous opinion of military officials here, will be an impossibility, as the separated Austrian armies are unable to communicate with each other, and all available troops and reserves having been called up, a quick rehabilitation of the crippled armies of the Austrians is manifestly unlikely.

The prevailing confidence in the speedy consummation of a Russian triumph over Austria is reflected in all the comments of the newspapers. The Petrograd Gazette says: "The thought we have all lived with since the beginning of the war—a final victory over Austria—is now at hand. Soon the last notes of the swan song of the dual monarchy will be heard."

Concentrate to Save Lemberg

The Austrians are concentrating their forces in an attempt to ward off a Russian advance on Lemberg, but according to the latest despatches the Russian troops pressing along the Dubno-Lemberg Railway, with Hudlyk well in their rear, are close upon the Galician frontier town of Hudlyk, which is nearly half way to Lemberg. The other Russian advance on Lemberg is being directed from a point north of Buczacz toward Halacz, from which latter town the road to Lemberg is easy and almost unfortified. The effect of the advance of these two lines is to place in great danger the Austrian centre near the Tarnopol extended position, and an Austrian collapse here is considered inevitable by the military observers.

The occupation of Czernowitz by the Russians has severed connections between the northern and southern armies. It has also enabled the Russians to establish direct connections from the frontier to Solatyn by the shortest and most convenient route, which will greatly facilitate the Russian progress toward Kolomoia, and by obviating further the necessity of a turning movement, allow the Russian southern forces to advance solidly from the Czernowitz region westward.

According to Colonel Shumilov, the military critic of the Bourse Gazette, the taking of Czernowitz means the Russian occupation of the whole of Bukovina, since there are no defensive lines on the way to the Carpathians. The writer says it is apparent from all recent reports that the first shock of the Russian attack has subsided and that the period of lightning assaults, terminating in the wholesale capture of prisoners and the penetration of the Austrian lines, will now be succeeded by a steady and stubborn struggle, in which the shaken Austrian forces, aided by considerable German reinforcements, have sufficiently recovered themselves to be capable of sharp counterattacks, which are becoming more and more frequent. Upon the success of this resistance, Colonel Shumilov adds, depends not only the fate of Lemberg, but the situation of the German armies, which, with Lemberg in Russian hands, would necessarily be forced to retire along the whole northern front.

Victory Due to Co-operation

The London Times Petrograd correspondent sends the following interview with General Brusilov, commander of the Russian forces fighting against the Austrians and Germans: "The speedy successes we have attained are not the product of chance or of Austrian weakness, but represent the application of all the lessons we have learned in two years of bitter warfare against the Germans. In every movement, great or small, that we made this winter, we have been studying the best methods of handling the problems which modern warfare presents."

"At the beginning of the war, and especially last summer, we lacked the preparations which the Germans had been making for the past fifty years. Personally I was not discouraged, for my faith in the Russian troops and in the Russian character was an enduring one. I was convinced that, given the munitions, we should do exactly as we have done in the past two weeks."

"The main element of our success was due to the absolute coordination of all armies involved and the carefully planned harmony with which the various branches of the service supported each other."

"On our entire front the attack began at the same hour. It was impossible for the enemy to shift his troops from one quarter to another, as our attacks were being pressed equally at all points."

"The most important fighting has been in the section of Rovno. Here we have made our greatest advances, which are striking seriously at the strategy of the whole of the enemy's front in the east."

Kovel the Key of Whole Eastern Front

"If we are able to take Kovel there is every reason to believe that the whole eastern front will be obliged to fall back, as Kovel is really the centre which has been extraordinarily useful for intercommunication between the Germans and Austrians. That this menace is fully realized is obvious from the fact that the Germans are supporting this section with all available troops from the west and the north."

"In all this fighting the Russian infantry has proved itself superb. The army now represents the feeling of the whole people of Russia, who are united in a desire to carry the war to a final and successful conclusion."

Regarding the huge capture of prisoners by the Russians, General Brusilov said: "The capture of the modern trenches, which makes them with their deep tunnels and maze of communications so difficult to destroy, renders them a menace to their own defenders once their position is taken in the rear or on the flanks, as it is impossible to escape quickly from these elaborate networks."

"Besides, we have for the first time had sufficient ammunition to enable us to use the curtain of fire for preventing the enemy from retreating."

Regarding the situation as a whole, General Brusilov said: "It is difficult to estimate what will be the political effect of our advance, but it is certainly far-reaching in Austria-Hungary. And this year it is improbable that the Germans will send a huge force to support the Austrians, as they did last year. The fall of Czernowitz must create a profound effect in Roumania and the Balkan states. These first few weeks have been extremely successful, but they are only the beginning of our summer campaign. Though the Germans may have small successes before they are finally defeated, we shall press the war against the increasing."

Try to Stern Russian Tide

The official statement issued by Petrograd says: "On the front of General Brusilov's armies the enemy tried by counter attacks to arrest our advance towards Lemberg. In the region of the village of Bogovitch, southeast of the village of Lokatch, six versts (about four miles) south of the main road from Lutsk to Vladimir, the Austrians in mass formation attacked our units and breaking through one section of the fighting front captured three guns belonging to a battery which resisted bravely to the last cartridge. On receiving reinforcements we overthrew the enemy, recapturing one gun and taking three hundred prisoners and two machine guns."

"In the region of Korystynitch, south east of Svinlouch, southeast of Lokatch, one of our valiant regiments launched a counter attack and put the enemy to flight. Meanwhile a section of our light battery posted in a wood in advance cannonaded the fugitives point blank. We took in this action three officers, one hundred soldiers and four machine guns. East of Borochof, south of Svinlouch, we seized after a desperate resistance a wood near the village of Boffit, taking one thousand prisoners and four machine guns."

"During the attacks in the region on the southern edge of Radzivil the enemy received our troops with jets of liquid fire. We took in this region yesterday eighteen hundred prisoners."

The help for the Wentworth arrived on Wednesday morning and were immediately taken to the big hotel.

The work of installing water meters throughout the city is nearly completed and it is said that there are now less than twenty-five houses to be metered.

On Tuesday evening a delegation from Rising Sun Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Rochester, visited Damon Lodge and witnessed the conferring of the rank of Knight on two candidates in long form.

The old time rivals, Dover and Portsmouth high school basketball teams clash today at the south playgrounds in the rubber game of the series. There should be a large attendance to encourage the boys.

SOLDIERS ARE HURRIED BACK FROM THE RIFLE RANGE

A detachment of 31 men from the 158th company in charge of Sergeant Robinson from Fort Constitution left today to engage in rifle practice at Massachusetts. Owing to the situation in Mexico the period of practice for the men of this company who marched over the road to the rifle range last week was cut short and they arrived back by train on Tuesday evening. The detachment now at the range will remain but a few days.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Evidence in the action of Warren H. Butcher vs. the Boston & Maine railroad was finished Wednesday morning. Col. John H. Bartlett made the closing argument for the railroad and Judge Ernest L. Cuppill for the plaintiff. The case was given to the jury after the noon recess. The next action is the suit of Rosa Cohen who seeks to recover from the Williamsburg City Fire Insurance Co. a policy of $1300 for damages to her house on Nancy street.

WILL SUMMER AT WALLIS SANDS

MUST REPAIR THE HIGHWAY ON NOBLE'S ISLAND

Taxpayers of York to File Complaint With the City Council.

The slogan "Boast Portsmouth" is going to get a black eye if the business men of York carry out their present plan.

Today one of the leading men at York was in this city where he protested long and loud against the conditions of that part of Market street known as Noble's Island. He called on several business men and members of the Board of Trade and his talk was very plain. The following petition which the taxpayers of York intend to put in circulation shows just what their intentions are:

"We, the undersigned taxpayers of the Town of York, hereby agree not to trade in the City of Portsmouth until said City of Portsmouth shall have repaired the end of Market street across Noble's Island to the Portsmouth toll bridge, beginning at the end of the paving on Market street at the tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad leading onto the Consolidation Coal Company's wharves to the end of said bridge.

"And we hereby agree to file this agreement with the Mayor, the City Council, or some suitable officer of said City of Portsmouth."

Can Portsmouth afford to lose this business? Not by any means. But the York people mean just what they say and it may be possible to prevent this step if the hampered public works department do the duty which the citizens elected them to do.

Every year we hear the same story about the wretched condition of this section of the city, while the water rates and taxes take a jump at the pleasure of certain city officials much to the detriment of the city in obtaining manufacturing industries.

It is bad enough to be required to be held up at a toll gate when people are coming from Maine to do business in this city without further expense of repairing damaged automobiles that are wrecked in attempting to pass over Noble's Island. It is time the city council or some department of the city woke up.

PRETTY JUNE WEDDING

Miss Anna F. Kelly Becomes Bride of William C. Henderson Today.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception this morning at 9 o'clock when Anna Frances Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelly, became the bride of William Christopher Henderson. A large number witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. D. Alex. Sullivan, P. M.

The bride wore a white tulle trimmed with old Irish lace. The bridesmaid was Miss Teresa Helen Kelley who was gown in light blue crepe de chine trimmed with silver lace.

Joseph P. Kelly acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the bride's home on Cass street where a wedding breakfast consisting of lobster and chicken salad, cold turkey, olives, celery, rolls, ice cream, assorted cake and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and costly wedding gifts. The honeymoon will include a trip to Washington and other interesting points and on their return they will reside at 6505 Third avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., where the groom is employed as a machinist.

A huge circle of friends and acquaintances wish them many years of happiness in their wedded life.

WENTWORTH HOME OUTGROWING ITS ACCOMMODATIONS

Building Must Be Enlarged to Meet the Situation.

The Wentworth Home, one of the latest institutions of this city for the care of the sick, is proving very valuable to Portsmouth. The home has been filled to its capacity nearly all the time and very creditable results have come from the good work of Miss Jessie McFarlane the superintendent, and her assistants. However, the home is fast outgrowing its accommodations and the crowding of patients there is a drawback in the efforts of the management to do its best with the continual application for admittance of the sick. It is evident that the building in some way or other must be enlarged and the sooner the better. The funds of the institution will not cover any improvements and it must come from other sources.

Here is an opportunity to do good and when any of our citizens are inclined towards charity they can do nothing better than help the Wentworth Home.

AWARDED THEIR LETTER

Athletic Associates Honor the Members of High School Baseball Team.

Wednesday morning at a meeting of the Portsmouth High Athletic Association, "P's" were awarded to the following members of this year's championship baseball nine: Acting Captain Patrick Timmons, Smith, Hodgdon, Spinnay, Paul Bailey, Jack Thompson, Theodore Butler, Thomas Craig, Walter Mulholland, Lawrence Carrier, Wallace Akerman and Manager Frank Peterson. The team has won nine out of twelve games and by its decisive victory over Deering High, the champion school team of Maine, it claims the Maine championship.

It also is entitled to the Southeastern New Hampshire championship and if rain had not prevented the Nashua High game, the locals might have been in running for New Hampshire state honors.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Many Friends Invade Home of J. M. Doran on Islington Street.

J. M. Doran, salesman for the Krause, Millett company was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening when a party of neighbors and the employees of the Krause, Millett plant invaded his home at 221 Islington street and made merry for several hours. This occasion was the anniversary of his birth and he was forced to recognize the reaching of another milestone, though he had planned to observe it in a quiet manner. The evening passed with songs, instrumental music and a most elaborate repast.

NOT BURGLARS AT ALL

Missing Cash Was Hidden in House by Children at Play.

The report in circulation that the home of Frederick McDonald on Cass street was entered on Monday during the absence of the household, proved to be without foundation. The family upon return, missing a sum of money, at once came to the hasty conclusion that burglars had entered the house and made away with it. Later, however, all the missing cash was discovered in various parts of the house, which had been hidden there by children at play.

Special meeting of Mercedes Aeria, P. O. 12, this evening at 7:30 o'clock to receive reports from the investigating committee and to act on the reading of the by-laws.

GEORGE W. SNOW, President.
RAYMOND PAOLA, Secretary.

REMEMBERED BY ASSOCIATES

Damon Lodge Presents Fred C. Horner With a Veteran's Jewel.

A visitor here on Tuesday evening was Fred C. Horner who recently went to Biddeford, Me., to engage in the laundry business. While here Mr. Horner took the occasion to visit Damon Lodge, No. 2, Knights of Pythias and greet his old time associates. During the evening Mr. Horner was given a very pleasant and agreeable surprise when he was called to the Chancellor Commandant's station and presented with a valuable Veteran's Jewel, he having been a member of Damon Lodge for a period of twenty-five years. During that time Past Chancellor Horner has been in active service taking a prominent part in the Rank staff and has easily earned the honor that was bestowed on him on Tuesday evening. Although taken completely by surprise Mr. Horner thanked the members of the lodge for their beautiful gift and said he should value it doubly, owing to the associations it carried with it.

VETTER-GARDNER.

Charles F. Vetter, Jr. and Miss Beatrice Belle Gardner, both of this city, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 2 Dearborn place, by Rev. William P. Stantley, pastor of the Middle Street Baptist church.
